F. TUCKFIELD, Chairman

Sydney, November 6. 8463

WILLIAM MOLESWORTH, (MEMBER OF THE ROYAL PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY OF GREAT BRITAIN) in soliciting the custom of his friends and the general public of Sydney and its environs to his

CHEMICAL AND DRUG ESTABLISHMENT,

295, Pitt-street, (late Hamilton and Co.'s),

Begs most respectfully to give them an assurance that every attention shall be paid to their commands. The experience of nearly twenty years in the business at some of the first houses in London and other large towns in England, and having been formerly engaged as Laboratorian in the well known house of SAVORY AND MOORE, BOND-STREET, will, he believes, be a guarantee that none but the most genuine drugs shall be sold by him, or employed in the making up of prescriptions, to which part of his business he will pay the very greatest attention, so that the skill of the physician may not be baffled or defeated by "CARELESS OR FRAUDULENT DISPENSING."

He will also study to meet the wishes of his customers, by charging something like LONDON PRICES, and will be content with less enormous profits than are now wrung from those who have the misfortune to "suffer from the ills that flesh is heir to," and which practice has been so loudly and justly complained of.

295, Pitt-street. 8433

FREDERIC NAINBY, APOTHECARY AND DRUGGIST, Morpeth, begs to announce that he has recently REMOVED into premises nearly opposite the "Wheat Sheaf Inn," and avails himself of the present opportunity of thanking his numerous friends for the very liberal support extended to him during the twelve months he has been in business at Morpeth.

Having arranged for periodical shipments of GENUINE DRUGS and MEDICINES direct from England, F. N. is now in a position to supply his customers with articles of superior quality, at Sydney prices. 8226

NOTICE.—MR. CUTHILL, Surgeon, has removed from Hancock's to Jenkins's Buildings, No. 72, George-street, opposite the English Church.

November 6. 8152

MR. FLETCHER, Dentist, 22, HUNTER STREET, a few doors from George-street, begs to inform his friends and the public generally, that he continues to stop decayed Teeth with the greatest success, and undertakes to supply Artificial Teeth on the most complete principle of self-adhesion, having no clasps or springs of any kind, and being perfectly natural in their appearance.

CHARGES:—

A single artificial tooth, from	0	10	0
A complete set, from	8	0	0
Stopping	0	5	0
Scaling and cleaning	0	10	0
Extracting	0	2	6

Mr F. can refer to persons of the highest respectability, and also wishes it to be understood, that no charge will be made unless satisfaction be given.

Hours of attendance from 10 till 5. 8426

MEDICAL GALVANISM

MR. NORRIE operates daily in all cases requiring the scientific administration of Medical Galvanism. The following are a few of the diseases in which the judicious application of this most powerful agent will be found of the greatest benefit—in Lumbago, Sciatica, Rheumatism, Gout, Paralysis, Tic Doloreux, Asthma, Deafness, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Epilepsy, Hysteria, all nervous affections, and a variety of cases arising from an imperfect action of the secretions.

G. EVANS,

MANUFACTURER OF THE AUSTRALIAN SODA WATER AND LEMONADE, 182, PITT-STREET, SYDNEY.

THE excellence of Evans' Soda Water, which is manufactured on Schweppe's peculiar principle, consists in the length of time during which it retains its life and pungency after it is poured out, and not (as some erroneously suppose) on the force with which it expels the cork. The latter being the characteristic of the commonest Soda Water, for the obvious reason that the gas is disengaged, whereas by the peculiar principle of Schweppe's process, the carbonic acid does not escape with the cork, but being thoroughly incorporated with the water, remains as a valuable medicinal feature in the manufacture. Every bottle has its due proportion of pure alkali. Evans' effervescing Lemonade now so extensively used throughout Sydney, possesses all the medicinal properties of the saline draught, combined with a fine lemon flavour, thus rendering it so agreeable and valuable an article in checking nausea, and allaying the oppressive heat and thirst attendant on fever, and all inflammatory diseases. As a most delicious, cooling, and refreshing draught, Evans' Lemonade stands unrivalled, and may be procured at most of the respectable hotels, inns, and other places of refreshment in Sydney, and other parts of New South Wales.

N.B.—Mineral waters of every description made to order as usual.

G. E. begs to state that the extensive additions he has made to his machinery and establishment in general will enable him to execute all orders with the utmost despatch to any extent. 7360

LEECHES, LEECHES.—Just received, from the interior, a fresh supply of the above, of very fine quality, and on sale at C. M. PENNY'S, George-street, near Bridge-street. 8192

GOLDSMITHS' HALL

WEDDING RINGS AND KEEPERS

THE Undersigned having observed advertisements in the Herald, with the above heading, containing insinuations against the Jewellers of Sydney, feel called upon (being themselves in that trade) respectfully to inform their numerous patrons and the public that they manufacture heavy fine gold wedding rings and keepers, of California gold, stamped with their own mark of a better standard than the English, being very nearly pure, and therefore better fitted for an article intended to be so enduring as a wedding ring, and concerning which no doubts have arisen.

They also keep for those who prefer them, wedding rings and keepers, stamped at the Goldsmiths' Hall, London.

They deem it hardly necessary to inform the public that no articles are made or sold at the Goldsmiths' Hall, which is a public office, under the control of the Government. The various manufacturers in London send their work to it to be assayed and marked, consequently assertions made of being supplied with rings or any jewellery by the Goldsmiths' Hall, are untrue.

So many articles of jewellery, and particularly rings and chains, are now made in Birmingham of inferior gold and electro-gilded, to make them look like fine gold, and stamped with a spurious mark, the only guarantee the public can have in this colony is the character of the establishment they purchase from.

FLAVELLE BROTHERS,

November 1. 7951

AT M. BIRNSTINGL'S.—We again call the attention of ladies and gentlemen to the reduction in prices, and beg to tender our sincerest thanks for the patronage received, knowing that TRUTH in business is most important, and the PUFF and UNTRUTH we read in some advertisements so n found out.

There is on hand—Superfine JEWELLERY in rings, brooches, pins, lockets, Albert, breques, and other guards. WEDDING RINGS, "Hall marked," and also of California gold, less alloyed and consequently superior, &c.

Superior SHEFFIELD PLATED ARTICLES, by Dixon and Son, best quality Britannia-metal tea and coffee pots

The WATCHES were made by order, full jewelled, and some with compensation power—Most highly to be recommended are the LADIES' GOLD WATCHES, which in neatness and construction are superior to any others imported

ORNAMENTS—Porcelain vases and baskets, toilet bottles, jewel bearers, water caraffes, &c., in Bohemian glass,—a splendid selection.

Articles of TASTE and ELEGANCE—Binocular Lorguettes, in silver inlaid and mother-of-pearl; gilt clocks—really most elegant, ladies' companions, vinagarettes, &c., &c. The above will be sold from 15 to 20 per cent on the invoice price RETAIL. A liberal reduction to the trade. QUICK RETURNS forming the profits at M. B's.

N.B.—Orders for every description of article can be executed in the most elegant and latest style of London or Paris. Watches and clocks attended to by a Workman of EXPERIENCE and TALENT. 8425

GOOD WHITE SHIRTS,

AT SMITH'S COLONIAL SHIRT MANUFACTORY, 57, PARK-STREET.

TO Gentlemen who prefer having their Shirts made to measure or order, J. T. Smith respectfully solicits them to give their directions during the winter months, as the influx of orders in the spring and summer renders it almost impossible to pay that strict and individual attention to the demands of all his numerous patrons that he really wishes to do; and from the comparatively few GOOD shirt hands to be met with, great delay is often caused, which is unavoidable, for the two reasons assigned. J. T. S. suggests that his friends should now give their orders for what they are likely to require in the spring. A registry is kept of all measures and particulars; therefore, for those gentlemen who have been previously supplied at his manufactory and reside in the country, it will be only necessary to transmit their wishes through the post-office, and every possible care and attention shall be paid to them.

A large and varied stock always on hand, comprising—Plain and fancy shirts, with or without collars; extra large size ditto; yacht and regatta shirts, choice patterns; Scotch twill, &c. Boys' and youths' shirts of every description. Flannel shirts and drawers, cravats, braces, boot hose, &c.

Ladies' and children's under clothing in stock, or made to order. 5941

PUBLIC NOTICE.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

CLEARING OUT

£10,000 of well selected

DRAPERY, SLOPS, HOSIERY, HABERDASHERY, FANCY GOODS, &c.

AS the partnership existing between James Johnson and John William Weight expires on the 30th of November, 1850, the public are respectfully requested to take notice that, in order to re-mark the whole of their splendid Stock at such reduced prices as will enable them to clear the whole out by the end of the month, their premises, Nos. 277 and 279, PITT-STREET, will be closed on FRIDAY, 8th, and SATURDAY, 9th, and will be opened on MONDAY, 11th instant, when catalogues, containing a list of the Goods in the various departments, with the reduced prices attached, will be ready for delivery to the public.

J. and W. wish respectfully to impress upon the minds of their friends and the public, that this being a bona fide clearing out of their stock for the reason above stated, they will do well to DELAY THEIR PURCHASES UNTIL MONDAY, when a visit to their establishment will convince them that this is not an advertisement intended to delude, but a plain statement of facts.

SHIPS' MAILS.

Mails will close at the Post Office, as follows:—

For San Francisco and Honolulu.—By the Eudora, this day, at noon.

For England via Panama.—By the Argyle (at Newcastle), this evening, at six.

PORTLAND.

Arrival.—October 27. May Queen, barque, Sayers, from Adelaide, to load wool for London.

HOBART TOWN.

Arrivals.—October 29. Sussex, whaling barque, 350 tons, Mansfield, from the South Seas. 30. Antares, schooner, 131 tons, M'Arthur, from Port Phillip; Albert Packet, schooner, 103, Abson, from Port Albert; Triad, schooner, 91 tons, Bowden, from Port Phillip; Cornelius, brig, 247 tons, Clarke, from Liverpool; Union, schooner, 74 tons, Downes, from Port Phillip; John and Charlotte, schooner, 93 tons, Lovett, from Newcastle; Jane, ship, 341 tons, Hughes, from the South Seas; Rebecca, schooner, 75 tons, Johns, from Geelong; Aladdin, barque, 290 tons, Macarthur, from the Whaling Grounds; Deslandes, schooner, 143 tons, Bertram, from Adelaide. November 1. Calcutta, barque, 484 tons, Wrankmore, from London 13th July.

PORT PHILLIP.

Arrivals.—October 29. Posthumous, barque, 390 tons, Davidson, from London via Adelaide 22nd October. Raven, brig, 150 tons, Bell from Sydney 20th October. 31. Harriet Nathan, barque, 127 tons, Christey, from Hobart Town 19th October. Wave, schooner, 66 tons, Warcus, from Port Fairy 29th October. Yarra, schooner, 139 tons, Robb, from Hobart Town 19th October. Antonie, brig, 215 tons, Hamann, from Hamburg 15th July.

The Wave was got safely off the beach on Sunday morning, and, as will be seen by our shipping report, has proceeded to Melbourne. She appears to have sustained no injury; but, of course, must be docked on her arrival at Melbourne. Too much cannot be said in praise of Captain Warcus, but we will only simply state the fact, that had it not been for his judicious and persevering conduct she must have been a total wreck. Every person in town, upon observing the vessel again riding at her usual anchorage, seemed overjoyed, as not only Captain Warcus, but the vessel herself, is a great and general favourite in Belfast, as well as Portland and Melbourne. Long may both continue in the trade with equal reputation and success, as they have so long done.—Belfast Gazette, October 29.

H.M.S. Havannah sailed from Numea (in New Caledonia) on the 30th ultimo. On her passage down she made an unsuccessful search for Middleton's Island, which apparently does not exist between the meridians of 159 and 161 east, and the parallels 28 and 28·30 south. Since leaving Sydney in July she has visited Auckland and Wangaroa, New Zealand, the Islands of Aneitum, Tana, Eromango, Vate, and Malicolo, of the New Hebrides; Vanikolo or La Perouse's Island, San Cristoval and Malata, of the Solomon's, and the principal ports in New Caledonia.

The Cornelius, brig, from Liverpool, had arrived at Hobart Town, bringing English news to the 24th July.

Some misapprehension appears to exist about the mail per the Earl Grey. The mail was closed at half-past one o'clock on Wednesday, and all letters up to that hour were forwarded; another mail was made up at six, and forwarded to the Heads, but the Earl Grey had cleared before the boat got down. Due notice was given that the mail would close at twelve, and the only letters left behind are a few that were posted between half-past one and six. The vessel cleared the Heads a little after seven in the evening

The Rover's Bride, Royal Sovereign, Julia Percy, and her tender, the Will-o'-the-Wisp, were all the vessels seen or heard of in the sandal-wood trade, and no whalers whatever were fallen in with during the cruize. The Bramble may shortly be expected at Sydney, after visiting the Loyalty Islands and the Isle of Pines.

The Thistle, steamer, having undergone extensive repairs, made a trial trip down the harbour yesterday afternoon, and was found to answer well. She leaves the Hunter River Company's Wharf this evening, at ten, for Morpeth, in lieu of the Rose. The latter vessel will be overhauled and painted before she resumes her trips.

The Tasmania.—The repairs of this vessel will detain her nearly two months, part of her cargo will be discharged, and her mail will be transferred to the Salsette, expected to sail about the 20th instant.

The Swan left Launceston Heads on the 4th instant, the Sir John Byng was the only vessel loading for Sydney on her departure.

The Medway from London, out 105 days, and the Isabella Watson, from Leith about the middle of July, arrived at Port Phillip on the 1st instant.

The fine new steam-ship Viceroy, on her return passage from New York to Galway, with a great number of passengers on board, and a valuable cargo, was wrecked on the rocks off Outer Island (one of the Mutton Islands, near Shag Harbour, Nova Scotia). Passengers all saved.

Cargo of the Beaver, from Moreton Bay: 32 casks tallow, 72 hides, 22 bales wool, 30 bundles sheepskins, 30,000 feet pine, 10,0 staves, and ,000 horns.

Wreck of the Sir John Pirie.—A letter has arrived in town, from Goose Island, the authenticity of which is incontrovertible; the following is a copy:—" Goose Island, October 10, 1850. Sir,—I beg to inform you, that a sealer, James Williams, arrived this afternoon, and reports having found a large portion of the wreck of a vessel on the 3rd instant, upon the west side (towards the south end) of Hummock or Prime Seal Island. It consisted of cabin and sheep fitting, a basket, part of a side ladder, two pieces of deck plank, a pine lower mast broken at the head, which he supposes to be a mainmast; a top-gallant yard, broken in the slings, a boom, which he says has evidently been used in the hold for a partition for cattle; a boat broken to pieces, also, the stern of a longboat, Sir John Pirie, of Sydney, on it; also a bust figure head, painted white, which he has with him; I have seen it, and know it to be the one belonging to that vessel."—Colonial Times.

The following ships are loading at Geelong, for London:—Thomas Lowry, having cargo on board up to Saturday, 26th October: 650 bales wool, 340 tons tallow, 1700 hides, 8000 horns, and 8 casks oil; Ann Milne, 500 bales wool, 200 tons tallow, and 15 bales leather; Bussorah Merchant, 250 bales wool, 240 tons tallow, 10 tons bones, 3000 horns, 300 casks beef, 40 casks provisions, and 700 hides; Chieftain, 130 bales wool, 130 tons tallow, and 2 tons bones; Missionary, 90 bales wool, and 90 tons tallow.

The Antonie, arrived last night, brings out 74 remarkably fine high bred Saxon rams, from the farm of Leitzenzig and Bud, by Mr. Steiger, who, as a breeder, is well known; only six were lost on the passage.—Melbourne Argus.

The barque Robert Henderson, hence, on arriving in California on the 20th June, during a fog, ran alongside the Farollones rocks, on which several of the passengers jumped, and were afterwards fetched off. After staying 26 days, the ill fated ship left, bringing back the timber and most of the passengers that she took up, but she was lost off the Heads, having missed stays and driven ashore in a gale of wind. The crew and passengers were saved; and the wreck was sold by auction for 170 dollars.—Adelaide paper.

"Sworn to no Master, of no Sect am I."

THE CITY ENDOWMENT.

It has been a custom with the organs of the local Government, whenever the subject of endowing our metropolitan city became mooted in the Legislative Council, to insist that the city has been endowed already, and to so large an extent as to preclude all reasonable claim for further grants.

With the view of bringing the truth fully and clearly out, our late representative, Mr. Lowe, moved last year for the production of certain returns, showing, respectively, (1) the annual sum expended by the Government in the improvement of the streets of Sydney for the ten years immediately preceding the establishment of the City Corporation; (2) the cost of the formation of the Tunnel, of laying down pipes, and other expenses for supplying Sydney with water, previously to the establishment of the Corporation; (3.) the cost of erecting the General Market in George-street, defrayed from the Colonial Treasury; and (4) the cost of erecting the Corn and Hay Market defrayed from the same source. These returns were accordingly laid upon the table; and the following is a summary of the results they show:—

Expended on the streets	£52,600
Cost of the Water Works	35,300
Cost of the Market Buildings in George-street	6,900
Cost of the Hay Market	1,100
Total	£95,900

A supplementary return shows, further, the average cost to the Military Chest of the rations and clothing supplied, during the ten years, for the convicts employed on the Sydney streets, amounting to £11,600.

These, then, together with the current revenue derived from the tolls on the Market Wharf, fees for inspecting cattle, fees and fines under the Building and Police Acts, and Hackney Carriage fees, amounting in all to about £1800 per annum, constitute the ENDOWMENT of which the Government officers are wont to speak with so much complacency. On a cursory view, the amount does certainly appear rather imposing, exceeding £100,000; but fairly examined, it dwindles to insignificance.

By endowment is generally understood the bestowment of something which yields an available income. In this sense it is understood by the citizens of Sydney, and in this sense they employ it when speaking of their claims upon the Government. If the money sunk in the formation and repair of our streets, during the ten years preceding the advent of our Corporation, yielded an annual return of, say, ten per cent, we grant that the £5260 derived from that source would be a respectable item of our civic revenue. But as, instead of yielding an income, our streets cost us a large outlay for their maintenance, it is evident that to speak of the £52,000 (or, including the rations and clothing for convicts, the £64,200) so sunk, as being in any rational sense an endowment, is to pervert the use of language. And as to the Water Works, we have always considered that the whole of their revenue ought to be applied to their own extension and maintenance; and that in exact proportion as the income should be found to exceed the expenditure, the rates of charge for that indispensable element ought to be reduced. The works ought to be self-supporting, but nothing more. The citizens are entitled to water at cost price; any higher charge would be a tax; and a tax upon water would be universally and justly odious.

But there is another view of the case. During the ten years in which the above expenditure on our streets and water works occurred, the inhabitants of Sydney contributed to the General Revenue, at the very lowest computation, £540,000; and a more recent return shows that the amount realized by the Territorial Revenue from the sale of allotments in the city and its vicinity, since the year 1831, was upwards of £40,000. The Government outlay, therefore, was in the ratio of about sixteen per cent. of our own money. Out of each £100 which the Government received from us, they returned, in the shape of local improvements, the small proportion of £16. Or, to vary the statement, while of the whole amount paid into the General Revenue during those ten years, the people of Sydney contributed about twenty-five per cent, the amount they received back again, for local improvement, barely exceeded four per cent.

We cannot admit, therefore, that in this particular the citizens are under any obligation to the Government. We cannot admit that they have been liberally dealt with by the Government. We must rather contend that the assistance they have had from the Colonial Treasury, in the repair of streets, the conveyance of water, and the erection of market-houses, falls far short of what they were justly and fairly entitled to.

But what, after all, does the City Endowment amount to? Assuming that by endowment is meant clear income, and that the income from the Water Works ought to be absorbed by its own expenses, we find, from the Report brought up last year by the Special Committee of the City Council, that the annual produce of the endowment is about as follows:—

Markets and Market Wharf	£2,300
Fees and Fines	3,500
Total from Endowment	£5,800

Now, to form a reasonable opinion as to the worth of this endowment, we must compare it with the outlay which the city requires. We do not mean outlay for salaries and other Town Hall expenses, though these, properly regulated, are an essential part of our municipal burthens; but bona fide outlay upon city works. The Special Report, in estimating this outlay, looks forward through a period of ten years, and divides the account into two heads—the completion of works now in progress, and the maintenance of the streets in good repair. These works, it should be understood, are all above ground, the more gigantic work of under ground drainage not being taken into the computation at all. In its estimate of ordinary ways and means for meeting the outlay, the Report allows a progressive increase in the amount of revenue at the rate of ten per cent. per annum. The results are as follows:—

Annual outlay for completing Works	£34,000
Ditto ditto for keeping streets in repair	2,800
Total outlay per annum	£36,800
Net Annual Revenue applicable to Works, after deducting Town Hall expenses	10,500
Annual Deficiency	£26,300
Or, at the end of the ten years	£263,000

This revenue is estimated on the basis of the present rates of assessment; but even supposing the citizens were taxed at the very highest rates allowed by law, the deficiency would still be £17,000 per annum, or £170,000 at the end of the ten years. With the former rates, the completion of the surface works would take the term of thirty-five years; and even with the maximum rates it would take twenty years, the sewerage and drainage remaining untouched. But the Report adds, "that at the rates these improvements have been progressing for the last six years, their completion would occupy a term of upwards of eighty years; and at the expiration of that period, that which will be in all human probability the densely crowded city of Sydney, will be as utterly unprovided with underground drainage as it is at present."

Now these facts seem to demonstrate, beyond all doubt or cavil, that the existing resources of the city are utterly inadequate to its pressing necessities; and unless some extraordinary aid be afforded by the Government, in the shape of money grants, or in the still better shape of permanent and productive endowment, our metropolitan city must be left in a state of disrepair, confusion, and impurity, not only irksome and discreditable in the extreme to its inhabitants, but highly dangerous to the health of the entire population.

English News, to the 24th July, had been received in Van Diemen's Land. An interesting summary will be found in another column. A vessel, bringing news to the end of July, arrived at Melbourne as the overland mail was leaving, but we believe no intelligence from her reached Sydney.

☞ We have been obliged to leave out a number of advertisements for want of space.

DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE.

INSOLVENT COURT.

Friday.

Before W. H. Kerr, Esq., Chief Commissioner of Insolvent Estates.

In the estate of James George Hughes, a single meeting was held, and the following claims proved:—The Australian Trust Company, £90; Thomas Woolley, £10 4s.; John Harris, £25 7s. 8d.; and J. H. Nixon, £51 2s. 10d. Insolvent having been examined the assignee was instructed to realize the assets, excepting only insolvent's wearing apparel. The meeting was then adjourned until the 18th instant.

In the estate of William Hill, a single meeting was held, and the following claims were proved:—J. H. Nixon, £33 2s.; P. W. Plomer, £33 17s. 3d.; Charles Roberts, £8 5s. 9d.; William Bunn, £1 11s. 10d.; Charles Scott, £5 1s.; Arthur Gravely, £3 8s. 2d.; and Alfred Parnell, £10. All the assets in the estate were ordered to be sold, and the meeting adjourned until the 14th instant.

MEETING TO-DAY.

In the estate of Carney and Redman, a special meeting, to decide upon an offer of composition, at 10 o'clock.

MULTUM IN PARVO.

(From late Australasian Papers)

The Governor and his party (says the South Australian Register of October 25,) returned yesterday. All that we need say at present is, his Excellency and those who had the honour to accompany him were highly gratified at what they saw, and by the facts and circumstances developed in the course of their long excursion, the public grounds on which the tour was undertaken will be found to have been abundantly confirmed.—A congregation of "Free Believers" who are, we believe, followers of the German Professor Strauss, has been established near Adelaide.—The Melbourne Horticultural and Floricultural Society had a very successful exhibition last week.—Collingwood, one of the suburbs of Melbourne, has been erected into an additional ward of that city, and is now "Fitz Roy Ward."—The Champion, the Government schooner at Western Australia, was to be laid up in ordinary, until instructions are received from England.—The lighthouse on Rottnest Island is to be completed, and a Mr. Carson was constructing revolving lights for it. The Adelaide Mechanics' Institute having heard that the Record Commissioners were giving their publications to public libraries, applied to the Governor to procure them a set: the books have just arrived accompanied by an invoice and bill for £113.—A person who went from Van Diemen's Land to California thus writes to a friend: "The life of a man in Launceston, labouring hard for bread and cheese, if any person there has occasion to do so, is the life of a prince compared with that of the greater number of the people who, like myself, come here, in the expectation of becoming rich; for God's sake advise my countrymen to be satisfied at home."—The crops in Van Diemen's Land are said to be in a very bad state.—The whole of the fifty needlewomen arrived at Melbourne were engaged in one day.—In July last there were forty aborigines in Perth (Western Australia) gaol.—The University of Dublin has conferred the degree of Doctor in Divinity on the Rev. H. Phibbs Fry, formerly of St. George's Church, Hobart Town.—On the departure of the last detachment of the 11th Regiment from Launceston, Colonel Despard issued the following general order:—"The Colonel commanding the troops in Van Diemen's Land cannot allow the detachment of the 11th Regiment to leave the colony without expressing the general satisfaction that its good conduct has given during the period of one year and nine months it has been stationed in the northern district, which reflects great credit, not only on the commanding officer (Major Harold), and the other officers doing duty with the detachment, but also on the whole Regiment to which it belongs."—A most barbarous murder was committed at O'Brien's bridge, near Hobart Town, on Sunday evening, October 27. The victim was an inoffensive old creature, near eighty years of age, named James Falks; he was living in a hut at the back of Mount Wellington, and found there lying on his back, weltering in his blood, his skull being broken in a most dreadful manner. A man named Thomas Wilkinson has been apprehended for the terrible crime. This man was lately acquitted of a charge of rape and robbery on the person of a Mrs. Knight.—Out of the fine cargo of horses shipped from Adelaide by the Tenasserim, only twelve arrived alive at Calcutta. A very beautiful mare belonging to Mr. Tolmer, known for her superior trotting powers, was lost; and the stock of Mr. Ellis, of Port Gawler, shipped by the same vessel has also suffered most severely.—Mr. Thomas Lee Archer, one of the oldest and most respectable settlers in Van Diemen's Land, died about a fortnight since.—The number of miners employed by the Burra Burra Mining Company is one thousand and three. Another dividend of two hundred per cent. had been declared.—The men who absconded with the Swallow from Hobart Town, were apprehended at Port Albert (on the bar of which they stranded the vessel), and have been brought back to Hobart Town.

Mayoress' Pic-Nic.—Mrs. Hill gave a picnic on Thursday, to which a large party of the citizens were invited, and which passed off very well. The scene of the festivities was the Sir Joseph Banks' Hotel, at Botany, and the adjacent grounds.

New Works.—In the July papers we notice the following advertisements:—" Now ready, in 8vo., cloth, pp. 96, with two coloured maps, price 6s., a Sketch of the Physical Structure of Australia, so far as it is at present known. By J. Beete Jukes, M.A., F.G.S., late Naturalist of Her Majesty's ship Fly. T. and W. Boone, publishers, 29, New Bond-street, London"—" This day is published, small 8vo., Recollections of Sydney, the Capital of New South Wales, illustrated by a plan of the city. By B. C. Peck. London, John Mortimer, publisher, 69, Fleet-street."

Hyde Park.—We have formerly alluded to the annoyance to which pedestrians, and particularly those of the gentler sex, are exposed in Hyde Park, from the puppyism of certain fast young men of the Australian metropolis, who seem to live only for the purpose of making themselves disagreeable to all around them. These gentlemen like to perch upon the railings by which passers by are compelled to enter or leave the principal walks of the Park, so that none may come or go without running the gauntlet beneath their impertinent gaze, and in the hearing of their equally impertinent remarks. When we first alluded to the evil, there was for a time some abatement, but it has become of late as intolerable as ever. We hope to see it checked. If public opinion is not sufficiently powerful to frighten these gentry into propriety, perhaps, by the aid of the authorities, some of them may be punished for their impertinence, and their example may have the effect of deterring the rest. Owing to the recent improvements in the Park, it has become a place of considerable resort, and it is the more necessary that respectable citizens should be enabled to enjoy the fresh air in this place, without being exposed to the impertinence of the class alluded to.

St. Augustine's College.—A list (the first we have noticed) of the successful candidates for honours among the students of St. Augustine's College, Canterbury, appears in the London July papers. Among them we observe the name of Mr. Marmaduke Bell, (son of Mr. T. Bell, of Parramatta) who was in the second class for divinity, and the third class for classics. He also obtained a prize for an essay upon "the different modes of instruction adopted by St. Paul in the various scenes of his missionary labours." Mr. Bell received his preliminary education at the King's School, Parramatta.

Clerical Appointment.—The Rev. H. J. Hatch (formerly of Hereford House, Sydney), curate of Talk-o'-th'-Hill, has been appointed to the perpetual incumbency of Chorlton, in the county of Stafford, by the Lord Bishop of Lichfield.

Roads.—With reference to the Government notice dated 10th September last, relative to the opening and making a certain parish road from Coogee Bay to the Botany Bay Road, from Sydney; notice is given in yesterday's Government Gazette, that as no objections have been made to the line in question, his Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has confirmed the road as already notified, and it is declared expedient to open and make the road according to the map to be seen at the office of the Surveyor-General, in Sydney; and all persons intending to claim compensation in respect of the line are reminded that notice must be served upon the Colonial Secretary, within forty days, or they will be for ever foreclosed from such claim.

Apprentices.—On Friday last William Stewart, an indented apprentice to Mr. Randolph Nott, of George street, ironmonger, was brought before the bench charged by his master with having unlawfully and without leave absented himself from his said service. Defendant had been in the habit of absenting himself, and about a fortnight ago was absent for several days, for which offence he was brought before the magistrates. Mr. Nott on that occasion, however, did not press the charge, hoping that an admonition from their worships would be followed by beneficial results. The boy then promised amendment, and was discharged without punishment. Since then, however, he had several times absented himself, for which absence he would give no reason—"Nothing particular" being his invariable reply; under these circumstances Mr. Nott saw no other mode of dealing with him than to bring him before their worships. The boy had nothing to say to the charge, whereupon the bench ordered that the sum of 15s. (a week's wages) be stopped as a recompense to his master for loss of time, or that he be imprisoned for three days; intimating, also, that he would have to serve for all the time he might be absent during the period of his apprenticeship before he could claim his indentures. He elected to be imprisoned rather than pay the money, on which he was informed, that if brought up again for a similar offence he might expect a sentence of at least as many weeks. Yesterday a lad named Fagan, was brought before the bench on a similar charge. The offence was clearly proved—in fact, was not denied. Mr. Brenan put the boy's mother into the box, who deposed that at the time of the date of the indenture her son was not of the age of twelve years. Mr. Brenan, thereupon, submitted that the indentures were mere waste paper, and their worships' jurisdiction in the case completely ousted. Mr. Shuttleworth, contra, hoped that the Court would not sanction such conduct as this, and therby allow the defendant to negative the statement of the father, at the time of signing the indenture, that the boy was of the age of twelve years, complainant having at first refused to take him, believing that he was under the age at which he might legally be bound apprentice. The bench were of opinion that there was not sufficient evidence before them to cancel the indentures, and ordered the boy to return to his master, both parties (but not the parents) having expressed their assent to that course.

Prisoner Discharged.—Joanna Dacey, charged with having stolen £8 from a seaman who was enjoying her society, and Thomas Bourke and Martin M'Laughlin, charged with stealing five dresses and two shawls the property of Mary Webster, were yesterday discharged by the Bench, there not being sufficient evidence on which to commit for trial.

Suspected Runaway.—A few days since a man, who gave his name as James Seeker, was apprehended by the Sydney police on suspicion of being a runaway prisoner of the Crown. On his person were found three pistols. He was yesterday brought before the Bench. He had been forwarded for examination to the Superintendent of Convicts' Office, where, however, he could not be identified. He refused to give any account of his manner of living, or where he had been residing in Sydney; he said, however, that he arrived here from Port Phillip about three months ago, at which port he landed from the Ocean in 1842 or 1843. On his person was found a letter, which, by the postmark, appeared to have recently been received from that place, and from its style there is little doubt that he and one or two others alluded to therein came here together—that they were a band of thieves—and that one or more of his travelling companions had since their arrival in Sydney "got into trouble," which, however, the writer is glad to hear is not so great as had been reported there. The names used are evidently noms de guerre, and beneath the signature, in large characters, are the words "Hurrah for the road!" Seeker got more than he sought—for the bench sentenced him to twelve months' imprisonment with hard labour as a rogue and vagabond.

Stealing from a Dwelling.—Some time between the hour of noon and 2 P.M., on Wednesday, some person effected an entrance into the premises of a person named Elliott, residing at or near Newtown, and stole from a box several articles of wearing apparel, of the value of from £3 to £4.

Grants of Land for National Schools.—The description of the following portions of land, which have been granted as the sites for National Schools, are published for general information, in order that the parties concerned may have an opportunity of correcting any errors or omissions that may have been made inadvertently. At the expiration of one month from this date (November 4), if no caveat be lodged or other cause of uncertainty appear, a deed of grant of each will be executed in favour of the Board of Commissioners for National Education, viz.:—Benalla, 49. 1 acre, parish of Benalla, town of Benalla, allotments Nos. 4 and 5 of section K.—Warrnambool, 50. 2 roods, county of Villiers, parish of Warrnambool, town of Warrnambool, allotment No. 11 of section 6.

Roads.—With reference to the Government notice of the 18th November, 1840, relative to the intention of the Government to open a parish road from Melbourne to Kalkallo, notice is given in yesterday's Government Gazette that no objections to the proposed line of road having been made in pursuance of the notice, his Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has confirmed the road, and it is declared expedient to open and make the road referred to, according to the map thereof, to be seen at the office of the Surveyor-General, in Sydney, and of the Surveyor in charge at Melbourne; and all persons intending to claim compensation in respect of the line, are reminded that notice must be served upon the Colonial Secretary, within forty days, or they will for ever be foreclosed from such claim.

Appointment.—His Excellency the Governor has appointed William Batley Hutchinson, Esq., Commissioner of Crown Lands for the police district of Patrick's Plains, to act also in and for the police district of Muswellbrook.

Horse-dealing at Calcutta.—It is a well-known saying in the American horse-trade, that the Captain's horse never dies; but we were not aware that similar impositions were already practised in the New South Wales trade, till we received a letter mentioning that out of a recent arrival of horses, some of which the property of parties who had sent orders to the colonies to purchase for them, one in particular, consigned to a respectable house here, was reported to be dead, but it was subsequently discovered by the proprietor that the horse had been landed under the captain's orders, and was standing at a public stable in town. Upon this information reaching the consignee, a search was made, and the horse was found with the brand marks razed from his hoofs, and on a threat of exposure, was delivered up. We have heard that suspicion has attached to another vessel, and that the captain has been called upon to account for certain horses reported to have died on the passage. It is not likely that many persons entrusted with the command of a ship would so disgrace themselves; but as the colonial horse-trade is in its infancy, and is likely to become important to both countries, it is very desirable that such practices should be checked on their first discovery. Some precaution ought to be taken at the shipping port, such as sending a descriptive roll, as precise as can be drawn up, and the captain should be required to give an accurate report of every death which happens on the voyage. Believing the great majority of those in the trade to be perfectly free from any suspicion of such misconduct, we have no doubt that they would lend their assistance in devising a plan for checking a practice which tends to destroy a valuable commerce in its infancy, by exposing it to losses which cannot be calculated upon or guarded against. The colonial authorities, too, will no doubt gladly make any regulations which may be found necessary for the security of trade, which, if honestly conducted, cannot fail to become important.—Englishman.

A bill has been passed by the New York Legislature which provides that any telegraphic operator, messenger, or agent, who shall wilfully divulge the contents of any communication entrusted to him, or who shall wilfully neglect to deliver the same, shall be liable to imprisonment, not more than three months, and fine not exceeding 500 dollars.

Violent Assault.—John M'Dermott, who on Saturday last was taken into custody for having committed a violent assault upon one Catherine Lawler, and who on Monday was remanded until Thursday, (prosecutrix not being able to attend) was on the day last named, found guilty of a common assault, and sentenced to pay a penalty of 20s., or in default be imprisoned for seven days. From the evidence of Mrs. Lawler it appeared that defendant on Saturday, came to her house while she was busy cleaning up, and not liking his presence, being in liquor, she ordered him away; after repeatedly telling him to go, of which he took no notice, she pushed him out, and as he was passing through the doorway he called her an old bitch, whereupon she threw a small quantity of water on him which remained in a tin pot with which she had previously been lifting water into a bucket; defendant thereupon savagely wrested the pot from her and struck her therewith a violent blow on the lip which laid it quite open, knocked her down, and kicked her. She fainted away; before she came to herself constable Bodily had received information of the assault, and as soon as he was able caused her removal to the Infirmary, and then apprehended the defendant. Mr. Redman submitted that the woman brought the assault upon herself by, according to her own testimony, throwing water over his client, which if not a sufficient justification for the treatment she received would at all events render necessary the imposition of but little more than a nominal penalty. Their worships said, that however plausible such argument might be as between two men, it was quite inapplicable as between a man and a woman: nothing would justify a man in striking a woman, unless in mere self-preservation from injury. As however it might be looked upon as some provocation, they would not inflict so heavy a penalty as otherwise they would have been disposed to do. Mr. Redman then made application for a copy of the depositions, his client intending to sue the complainant in the Court of Requests for damages in respect of the water which she admitted having thrown upon him.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

The sales of the past week show a marked improvement; the amount of business done has been considerable, and in many instances better prices have been obtained by the trade. Stocks are being much reduced; imports continue exceedingly limited, and very inadequate to our usual demand at this season. There are still a few articles which are held in large quantities by importers and the trade. Ale and porter, of different brands, are difficult of sale, though the reduced rates at which they are offered will increase the consumption considerably.—Dried fruits: The grocers are fully stocked with most descriptions, but the very brisk demand ruling will tend to keep prices steady; present quotations leave the importer a loser.—Brandy: The arrival of the Agricola, with a very limited supply, has given a tone to the market, and recent advices from home note an upward tendency for boot brandy.—Rum: The arrival of the Royal Saxon, with a considerable quantity of East India strong rum, in place of depressing, has had the effect of improving this market, the importer looking for a high figure. Low proof British plantation rums, of good quality, are in few hands.

Cigars.—Stocks have run very low

Tobacco.—Is held by the trade at advanced rates

Coffee.—Sales of a few tons are reported at former quotations.

Copper and Sheathing Metal.—Sales are reported, of the former, at 1s., and of metal, at 10½d. and 11d.

Cordage.—Our market is very sparingly supplied with Manila; rates are nominal.

Fish.—In dried fish there is little doing.

Flour.—The millers are supplying consumers at very low rates, to the prejudice of growers, but this cannot continue to be the case, judging from present appearances of the crops in Van Diemen's Land and elsewhere.—Glass, sheet: Imports having considerably fallen off of late, this market daily assumes a better appearance; for the stocks held by importers' remunerating rates should be obtained.—Gunpowder: The stock is heavy, and in several hands.—Iron is held in large lots by the trade, but there are many sizes of which there is a scarcity; invoices range from £6 to £7, according to assortment, but descriptions realize much higher rates.—Oil: linseed, is held in very limited quantity; the out-ports are bare.—Rock salt comes forward in quantity; quotations have not exceeded 6ls. for some time past.—Starch: Lesher's is held in quantity by importers and the trade; Colman's is in very few hands.

R. HARNETT, Broker.

Sydney, 9th November

PRODUCE CIRCULAR.

The serious delay in the arrival of our wool clip, consequent, in the first instance, upon the prevalence of drought, and recently protracted by a directly opposite cause—the heavy rains,—render transactions in produce of much less consequence than usual at this period of the year.

For the limited quantity, however, which has been sold, both privately and by auction, our quotations have been fully maintained—indeed improved rates have been given for tallow, freights being easier.

MORT AND BROWN, Auctioneers.

Sydney, November 8.

SYDNEY MARKETS.—Friday.

Wheat.—The only sales of imported we have heard of this week, have been at from 4s. 2d. to 4s. 4½d. Colonial, 3s. 9d. to 4s. 2d. Sales, however, are dull, the near approach of harvest inducing purchasers to hold back.

Flour.—Fine is quoted at the mills at 11l. 10s., seconds 9l. 10s., and ration 8l. 10s per ton, of 2000 lb.

Bran 8d. to 9d. per bushel, according to quantity.

Biscuit.—Cabin, 17s., and ship, 13s. per cwt.

Forage.—The general price for hay at the market this week, has ranged from 4l. to 4l. 10s.; one load of very superior quality was yesterday sold at the rate of 5l. per ton. Straw, 2l. to 2l. 10s. Green food, 6d. to 7d. per dozen bundles by the load.

Live Stock.—Good stock for slaughtering purposes continue to be very scarce and for such there is every prospect of good prices for some time to come. Sales of cattle to the carcase butchers have been made this week at all prices from 25s. to 53s. 6d. per head, but nothing of even tolerable quality has been sold under 47s. Calves, 10s. to 25s. Sheep, 7s. to 8s. 9d. Lambs, 7s. to 8s. 6d. Pigs—large fat pigs 2½d. to 3d., and porkers 3½d. per lb. At the sale of Mr. Templeton's stock, at Abbotsford, by Mr. Armstrong, milking cows were sold at an average of 47s. per head, bullocks (including working and unbroken) 50s., steers and heifers 30s., and the remainder of the horned stock, above six months old, 19s. 6d. per head; harness horses averaged 9l., saddle horses 5l. to 7l., and unbroken colts and fillies 4l.; at his Repository, on Monday, Mr. Berry's horse stock, partially broken, realised an average price of 10l; and at his sale, yesterday, 7 head were sold at an average price of 8l. Mr Stewart's sale of horses during the past week are to the extent of 32 head, at prices ranging from 3l. to 16l. each. This market is not quite so brisk as it was a month since, but a want of really useful horses is yet much felt.

Poultry.—Fowls, 2s. 6d. to 3s.; ducks, 3s. 6d. to 4s.; geese, 4s. 6d. to 5s.; turkeys, 8s. to 10s.; wild ducks, 2s. to 2s. 6d.; pigeons, 9d., per couple.

Eggs.—7d. to 8d. per dozen.

Butchers' Meat.—The wholesale butchers supply beef at 1½d. to 1½d., and mutton at 1½d to 1½d., according to quality.

Dairy Produce.—Butter 5d. to 7d., cheese 5d. to 7d. and bacon 4½d. to 5d. per lb.

(B.—There is a Lord Mayor in London, York, and Dublin.)

ENGLISH SUMMARY.

We are indebted, says the Launceston Examiner, to a mercantile friend for the loan of the Liverpool Mercury, of 23rd July, from which the following intelligence is extracted:—

The Queen and Court, on 19th July, left Buckingham Palace for Osborne for the season.

The House of Lords sat only a short time on the 18th, during which they received from her Majesty and the Duchess of Cambridge replies to the addresses of condolence on the death of his late Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge. The elections' bill for Ireland was read a third time and passed.

The House of Commons, on the 18th, received replies to the addresses of condolence on the death of his Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge, and also a message from the Crown referring to her Majesty's faithful commons the consideration of a provision for the family of the late Duke of Cambridge. The members were then suddenly convulsed with laughter by an intimation from Mr. Fergus O'Connor that that day fortnight he would move for a repeal of the legislative union between England and Ireland. The house then took up the debate (which had been adjourned from the 23rd of April) on Mr. Heywood's motion, praying that her Majesty would be graciously pleased to issue her royal commission of inquiry into the state of the universities and colleges of Oxford, Cambridge, and Dublin, with a view to assist in the adaptation of those important institutions to the requirements of modern times. Lord John Russell having promised a royal commission of inquiry, whatever might be the result of Mr. Heywood's resolution, and Mr. Stuart having withdrawn his amendment, the debate on the motion of Sir George Grey, was, by a majority of 161 against 138, adjourned for three months, the resolution in effect being thereby negatived. The Chancellor of the Exchequer attempted to postpone the committal of the attornies' certificate bill, but the legal influence again prevailed, and again were the Government left in a minority, 105 having voted for the committal and 103 against. After one or two divisions on the details, the various clauses of the bill were passed, and the house adjourned.

The early sitting of the Commons on the 19th was occupied in discussing the clauses of the maritime bill. In the evening sitting Mr. Milner Gibson said it was not his intention to proceed with the county rates' bill after the adverse report of the select committee, and he saw no chance of the establishment of county financial boards unless the government took it up. Sir George Grey promised to consider the evidence on the bill, but he would not pledge himself to introduce a measure on the subject. The house then resolved itself into committee, and took into consideration the allowance to the Duke of Cambridge. Lord John Russell, after stating that the present duke, independent of his professional emoluments, derived from the property of his father an income of only £1200 per annum, proposed and carried an allowance of £12,000 a-year. An amendment, by Mr. Hume, for making the allowance £8000, and another for £10,000 were lost, only 53 voting for the first and 55 for the second amendment, in a house consisting of 350 members. A resolution for granting £3000 a-year to the Princess Mary was agreed to. The house then went into a committee of supply. Mr. Cobden opposed the vote of £10,000 for the purchase of the Danish forts on the Gold Coast of Africa, contending that the purchase was an attempt, and a futile one, to suppress by land that slave trade which we had been unable to suppress by sea. After a lengthened discussion the vote was carried by a majority of 138 to 42, and the house till its rising was occupied in the discussion of the remaining estimates.

The vacancies occasioned in the parliamentary representation of the country, by the lamented death of Sir Robert Peel, and by the recent law changes, have been filled up. Sir Robert Peel, Bart., takes the place of his revered father and grandfather, as one of the members for Tamworth; Sir John Romilly, the new attorney-general, has been re-elected for Devonport; and A. E. Cockburn, Esq., the new solicitor-general, has been again returned for Southampton. The place of Sir John Jervis, at Chester, has been filled up by the honorable W. O. Stanley, a liberal and free trader, who was returned by a triumphant majority of 341 over his Tory opponent, Mr. Egerton, the numbers being—for Mr. Stanley 986, for Mr. Egerton 645.

The Gorham case has at length been brought to a conclusion in the law courts. At the Court of Arches, on Saturday, the Bishop of Exeter brought in the letters of presentation of the Rev. George Cornelius Gorham to the vicarage of Bampford Speke. An attempt was made by the bishop to enter a protest on the records of the court to the letters of presentation, with a view to ulterior proceedings in the Court of Chancery; but Sir Herbert Jenner Fust, who presided, accepted the presentation and rejected the protest, which was torn off, and here the matter ended. Mr. Gorham will be instituted to the living by his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury next week.

It is supposed the Court will remain at Osborne till the 20th of August, when it will remove to Balmoral, to which place the royal party will proceed by railway, &c., making the journey (it is said) from Osborne to that place in a day.

His Royal Highness Prince Albert has not only consented to become Patron of the Evening Classes for Young Men in London and its Suburbs, but has forwarded through the Hon. Colonel Phipps, the liberal donation of £50 to the Rev. C. Mackenzie, the honorary secretary.

Several houses at Orleans were nearly destroyed by a waterspout on the 16th June.

The Rev. Thomas Jackson, D.D., is appointed Bishop of Lyttelton, New Zealand; Rev. Francis Fulford, D.D., is appointed Bishop of Montreal.

In the House of Commons, on Thursday, July 18, Lord Marcus Hill brought up her Majesty's reply to the address respecting the erection of a monument to the memory of the late Sir R. Peel, in Westminster Abbey, in which her Majesty assured the house that she had given directions in conformity with the wishes of the house.

Miss Peel, of Larigran, near Penzance, sister of Sir Lawrence Peel, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Calcutta, and first cousin of the late Sir Robert Peel, has just acceded to the Church of Rome.

The man Robert Pate who committed the dastardly assault on Her Majesty, has, since his removal to the Milbank penitentiary, been an inmate of the infirmary of that prison. In consequence of the medical and other testimony adduced at his trial, Sir George Grey was induced to direct a medical examination of the prisoner, and the result has been the recommendation for his confinement in the infirmary. Pate, we are informed, is in a very delicate state of health, and he employs his time by writing letters in different languages.

Contemporaneously with the dissolution of the repeal association, comes the finale of the Magheramayo affair. The prosecution of the persons who were to have been tried at the present Down Assizes, for the Dolly's Brae riots, has been abandoned by the Crown; this step being adopted in compliance with the representation of several magistrates and others, to the effect that to proceed with the prosecution would only revive the animosity between the two parties which has of late so happily subsided.

London Closing Prices.—Monday Evening, July 22: Consols, account, 96¾; consols, money 96¾ to 96⅞; three-and-a-quarter per cents., 98⅞ to 99; exchequer bills 67 to 70; London stock, 168½ to 169½; ditto quarters, ⅛ to ⅜ prem; Midland stock, 32½ to 32⅝; ditto halves, 25½ to 25 disc.; North Stafford, 11¼ to 11⅛ dis.; old Dovers, 13⅝ to 13¾; ditto No. 4 registered, 4½ to 4⅝; Great Northerns, 15 to 15¼ dis.; Great Westerns, 55 to 56; Leeds fifths, 9⅝ to 9⅞ dis.; Berwick preference 5⅜ ex div.; York and North Midland, 13⅝ to 14⅛.

London Markets.—Wheat: No increase in supply of British wheat. English red, 38s. to 42s.; white, 40s. to 45s.—Cotton: The market is firm and the sales by private treaty were 1000 bales at stiff rates.—Tallow: A firm market, but at the same time dealers not much disposed to operate. Fine yellow candle on the spot is not to be obtained under 36s. 6d.; and for delivery in last three months of the year, 37s. 6d. to 37s 9d. are the rates asked.

Union Bank of Australia.—At the meeting to-day, a dividend of three per cent. for the half year was declared, with a bonus of 7s. 6d. per share.

A Cabinet Council was held at the foreign office this afternoon.

The death of the President of the republic of the United States has had no effect on the stock exchange, but is generally regretted.

Poland.—A telegraphic message had been received at Hamburg from Berlin, announcing that a dreadful fire had broken out on the 18th at Cracow, which laid waste great part of the city, and consumed the archbishop's palace, besides other public buildings.

France.—The government has received intelligence of the arrest and imprisonment of a Pole, on a charge of a plot for the assassination of the King of Prussia. No papers were found upon him. The Times correspondent says it is believed the plan was concocted in one of the numerous secret political societies for some time past established in London. No other news. Fives done at 96⅛.

Prussia.—The Danish commodore has announced to the consuls of neutral nations at Kiel, that the blockade of that port will be commenced forthwith.

House of Lords.—Last night, Lord Truro took his seat upon the woolsack, and immediately afterwards the three persons,—Joseph Byrne, Joseph Hine, and Duncan M'Arthur, who were charged with having forged a number of signatures to a petition against the water-works bill, appeared at the bar. In reply to questions from the lord chancellor, each of the parties admitted their guilt, but urged several extenuating circumstances. The lord chancellor then recapitulated the case, and after some evidence had been shown by the short hand writer, moved that they be committed to the custody of the Black Rod, and sent to Newgate for a breach of the privileges of the house. The motion was carried nem. con., and after a short discussion it was further resolved, on the motion of Earl Grey, that a select committee be appointed to inquire into the circumstances under which the persons now committed were employed to get up the said petition.

CONVICT PRISONS BILL.

House of Commons, July 11.

On the motion that this bill be read a third time,

Lord Mahon said, that no opposition had been offered to this bill in its former stages, nor did he mean to offer any opposition to it on the present occasion. He could not allow the bill to pass, however, without expressing his satisfaction that the views which he had always entertained respecting the treatment of convicts had been in a great measure adopted by Earl Grey. He doubted, however, whether the power left to the convict under the present system of changing his master was not liable to great abuse. The opinions which he had expressed on the 8th of March, last year, on this subject were, he found from a despatch subsequently addressed by Sir W. Denison to Earl Grey, also entertained by that officer. He was convinced that a return to a modified system of assignment was the best plan that could be adopted. He trusted also that the diffusion of convicts and the enlargement of their sphere of distribution would not be lost sight of by the Government. He had no wish to impose convicts on any colony without the consent of the colonists themselves, but he thought it highly desirable that convicts should be again received in New South Wales, and also that Parliament should make a grant of money to assist free emigrants to obtain a passage thither. North Australia also might, he thought, advantageously receive a certain number of convicts.

Sir George Grey said, that as no opposition was made to the third reading of the bill, he would confine himself to the suggestions which had been made by his noble friend, without entering upon the general subject of convict discipline. He allowed that in matters of this kind, it was necessary for the Government to feel its way, and to be guided not only by the experience it had acquired, but by the opinions of men on whose authority reliance might be placed. With regard to the limitation on the power of assigned servants to change their masters, some further correspondence on the subject had taken place between Sir William Denison and Earl Grey, and additional modifications had been introduced, in accordance with the opinions expressed by Sir William Denison, though they did not go the whole length of his recommendations. It was not intended to return to the system of assignment, which had produced so many evils, but the principal of assignment was valuable, and care would be taken to guard against the mischiefs to which the old system had led. With regard to the treatment of convicts at home, he begged to say that it was intended to do away with the hulks at Portsmouth, and to erect a convict barrack on shore. Returning to the treatment of convicts abroad, he quite agreed with his noble friend that it was extremely desirable that the convicts should be dispersed as widely as possible, and also that as many of our colonies as possible, in which the labour which they could give would be found useful, might be induced to receive convicts. He was certainly anxious that New South Wales should take convicts again, if the consent of the colonists could be obtained, but he feared that any attempt on the part of the Government to press that subject now on the attention of the colonial legislature would defeat its own object. He thought that if a number of free emigrants were assisted to emigrate to that colony, the legislature might be induced to receive convicts again. With regard to North Australia, he could only repeat what he had said last year, that it was to be peopled by exiles and emancipists from Van Diemen's Land, who were to be induced to keep together by grants of land. With respect to emigration, he would not now enter into the question, but he thought it was very desirable, not only that the convict population should be mixed with a free population, but also that the convict population should be as small as possible in comparison with the free. He did not, however, think that it would be prudent to ask parliament to assist emigration to North America, because parties already there sent out money to pay the passage of their relatives over, and if parliament came forward with a money grant, these persons would keep their own money in their pockets, and probably a smaller emigration would ensue than would otherwise have taken place.

Sir J. Pakington expressed his satisfaction at the attention which had been devoted to this important subject by the right honorable gentleman and also by his noble friend. He still doubted, however, whether the second stage of convict discipline should not be carried out in one of the colonies abroad, instead of maintaining a large convict establishment at home for that purpose. With regard to the bill before the house, he was only sorry that its principle was not carried further; and he hoped that another session would not pass without seeing a central board established for the government of prisons generally, instead of being confined, as it was by this bill, to the prisons of Milbank, Pentonville, and Parkhurst.

Mr. Slaney feared that plans for the reformation of prisoners were viewed with much too sanguine an eye. His opinion was, that all plans for the reformation of crime had been as unsuccessful as they were expensive, and that if one-tenth of the expense which they cost were applied to the prevention of crime, it would answer infinitely better. He hoped that the attention of Government would be directed to the bringing forward some remedial measures in the shape of education, and he would suggest the practicability of passing an enabling statute, empowering parishes to rate themselves for the purpose of introducing an improved system of education for the juvenile portion of the community.

After a few words from Mr. Floyer and Mr. Henley,

Sir W. Joliffe observed that he despaired of the diminution of crime so long as there were 31,700 beer-shops in the country, where beer was allowed to be drunk on the premises. These places afforded the greatest temptations to vice of every kind, and he feared that nothing effectual could be done to put them down, till the revenue ceased to be collected by an excise on malt.

After some further conversation, the bill was read a third time and passed.

The New Canterbury Settlement.—It has been determined that the chief town of the new settlement of Canterbury, in the Middle Island of New Zealand, shall be called "Lyttelton," in honour of the noble lord who is chairman of the committee. The seat of the new diocese will be in that town, and Dr. Jackson, who is about proceeding thither, will take the title of "Bishop of Lyttelton," instead of "Bishop of Christchurch," as was at first intended.

It is stated that a very valuable copper lode has just been discovered on the property of a Mr. Harrold, close to the city of Limerick.

The only English members that voted against the abolition of the Irish Viceroyship are Lord Arundel, Mr. Frewin, and Colonel Sibthorp.

PLAIN FACTS (Not Pope's).

It is a fact which needs no proving here,
That highest merit most meets envy's sneer;
It is a truth which every day must teach,
That men still slander what they cannot reach:
And like the fox who had in vain aspired
To reach the grapes above him till he tired,
So will mankind, ungenerous and mean,
Chafe on their failures and indulge their spleen,
Not on themselves, who only merit blame,
But upon those who on the road to fame
Have passed the lazy loiterers like the wind,
And left the grumbling far—oh, far—behind!
Thus is it with us, and with the jealous pack,
Who hoped to crush us with a joint attack.
And why?—because our firm had taken the lead,
And we had shown them how they should succeed:
Because they thought some mighty power had willed,
That while their shops were empty ours were filled;
And most of all were they infuriate
Because we gave them pity for their hate!
Yet—it was vexing this, we must admit,
To find that all their efforts "would not fit;"
That by the public, do whate'er they would,
Malignity was seen and understood.
And all they tried to do to work us ill,
Raised us the higher—sank them deeper still!

Enough of rivals?—we have said enough
To show the value of their empty stuff.
And now kind friends who have our efforts praised,
A second monument to you we've raised;
In King-street, by your patronage and aid,
We now extend our overflowing trade.
There a fair branch our customers shall see,
Well worthy of the George street parent tree—
A tree and branches whose foliage none dispute,
Speak a rich soil, and firmly seated root.
Yes! in our new emporium, as the old,
Truth, strong in honesty, shall be as bold;
And there by all the world it shall be owned,
Taste, novelty, and cheapness sit enthroned!

TO CAPTAINS, OWNERS, AGENTS OF VESSELS TAKING THEIR DEPARTURE FROM SYDNEY, AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY.
GENTLEMEN,—In calling your attention to the accompanying certificate, may I request the support of your patronage to the consumption of an article conducive to the health and comfort of passengers leaving this port on a lengthy voyage.
I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
JAMES BRIEARS.

On board the Cadet,
Somervill's Wharf, Sydney, June 28, 1850.
Sir,—I have great pleasure in bearing testimony to the state of perfection in which the Glasgow Beef Hams shipped by you were prepared—whether as to the curing, spicing, or smoking, they were alike creditable. I used them on the passage hence to Amoy, Manila, and back to this port, occupying a voyage of eleven months, so that I had full opportunity from experience of testing their goodness, a sample of which may now be seen at the agent's office. You are quite at liberty to make use of this communication in any manner you may require.
I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
(Signed) R. PRATT.
Mr. James Briears,
Glasgow Ham and Provision Warehouse,
corner of King and Clarence streets. 8380

JOHNS AND CO.'S PATENT STUCCO CEMENT.

JOHN G. COHEN has received instructions to sell by auction, at his Rooms, 490, George-street, On WEDNESDAY next, November 13, At 11 o'clock precisely. Without the least reserve.

29 CASKS JOHNS AND CO.'S PATENT STUCCO CEMENT.

Extract from "Johns and Co.'s" Circular.

The following are the EXTRAORDINARY and POSITIVE advantages possessed by this over every other cement:

1st. It will adhere with a tenacity (hitherto unknown) to any surface whatever, whether stone, brick, tile, slate, wood, iron, all the metals, and even to glass.

2nd. It will form a perfect casing of stone to any building that is covered with it, by which the walls will be materially strengthened; and such is its waterproof quality, that all wet or damp will be effectually excluded.

3rd. It is of a most elegant appearance, resembling the finest dressed stone, and any tint may be imparted to it by the colour of the sand selected for mixture with it; it may thus be made to imitate Granite, Portland, Bath, or Yorkshire stone, so closely that it would with difficulty be detected by the most experienced mason.

4th. It is not subject to discoloration; it never turns green; it is never known to crack or blister; the hardest frost has no effect upon it; and it stands in no need of paint.

5th. For repairing damaged stone and fractures, cracks, or perished portions in Roman Cement, or any description of stucco or plaster preparatory to painting, it is invaluable; for the places so repaired may be painted over immediately, without the slightest chance of any stain afterwards appearing; and internal walls covered with this cement may be painted upon, or the most costly flock paper hung upon them, in twenty-four hours after the plasterer has finished.

6th. The unexampled success which has attended the application of this cement in the most exposed parts of the sea-coast warrants the assertion, that it is the only cement discovered which may be employed with confidence in marine situations, experience having proved that the worst weather that can assail it tends only to harden and improve it.

7th. As an article of export, one most decided advantage that this cement possesses is, that there is no perishable property in it which requires it to be used immediately or soon after it is made. It, in fact, improves by age; it may consequently be exported to any part of the Globe, to the hottest or coldest climate; and the contents of a cask will be found as sound and as serviceable for building purposes five years after its arrival, as on the day of its shipment. Merchants and dealers in cement need not therefore be under any apprehension of loss from holding stock of this article; an objection to which it is well known all other cements are subject.

8th. With regard to the cost of this material, the application of it is computed by the most careful calculations to be half the price of mastic, and will not exceed the average cost of Roman cement; but, when its great advantages of permanency and its highly ornamental character are considered, it is infinitely cheaper than any cement ever introduced.

The result of experiments on the power of this cement in resisting damp, has developed the extraordinary fact that, of all the building materials in general use, it is approached only by three, viz.—Aberdeen granite white carrara marble, and slate, to each of which it is very similar in its non-absorbent powers, exceeding by far in this most desirable qualification the Portland, Bolsover, Bath, and all the quarried stones, and even fire-brick—and being six times better adapted to resist moisture than the brick in common use, and more than eight times as powerful in that respect as Roman cement—therefore the advantages to be derived from covering brick houses with this cement are enormous, and especially as there is no after expense of painting or colouring; for a house covered with Johns and Co's cement can, after any number of years, be made to assume the freshness of its first finish, by the simple process of scouring down the surface of the work with a brush and water, or soap and water, at the mere expense of the labour: there is, however, no objection to the use of oil paint, if it is desired to obtain any particular shade of colour; in which case this cement has another paramount advantage—it may be painted upon immediately, which fact alone renders it of immeasurable value to the builder.

☞ The printed circulars with directions to be had at the Rooms of the Auctioneer, and the cement can be seen till day of sale.

THE RAVEN, STEAMER.

Exclusive of Machinery, as she now lies at the Hunter River Steam Navigation Company's Wharf, Pyrmont,

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION BY MR. SAMUEL LYONS, At his Mart, On WEDNESDAY, 20th instant, At 11 o'clock precisely,

THE above vessel was built in 1848, by Mr. Thomas Chowne, being constructed of three thicknesses of planking, with tarred blankets between them, upon the diagonal principle; she is coppered and thoroughly copper-fastened every 4 inches up to the 4 feet line from the bottom; her length between perpendiculars is 86 feet, and extreme breadth in midships 15 feet.

☞ The great strength of this vessel has been proved, for although stranded at the M'Leay River, on being got off she was found to be perfectly tight, and is now parted with solely on account of her not being altogether suitable for the River Trade at Moreton Bay.

The vessel would make an excellent barge or schooner, and would be well adapted for bar harbours. She would carry probably about 70 tons.

 Further particulars may be had on application to James Paterson, Esq., Secretary, Hunter River Steam Navigation Company's Wharf, Sussex-street.

Mr. Ledsam respectfully invites the attention of Capitalists, Agriculturists, and others, and the public generally, to the sale now advertised.

The Estate of "Lennoxton" is proverbial for its fertility and beauty.

The Homestead is erected on a beautiful site, and so commodious as to be admirably adapted to and suitable for a family of the first respectability; in front of which is a splendid Garden, Vineyard, and Orchard, bearing in rich profusion fruit of every description—apples, apricots, loquats, lemons, pears, peaches, plums, oranges, grapes of the choicest vines, &c. The fruits of the garden this season, simply considered, will realise about £50.

The land in cultivation is first-rate, peculiarly adapted to the growth of wheat, maize, tobacco, cotton, &c.—abundantly supplied with fresh water, and sheltered from the southerly winds by Mount Johnson, and from the west and north-west winds by Mount George. In a word, the estate of "Lennoxton," consisting of rich agricultural and pastoral lands, stands unrivalled amid the varied splendours everywhere beheld in the magnificent district of the Paterson—"The Garden of New South Wales."

Refreshments provided.

The terms of sale will be stated in a future advertisement. 8061

TO AGRICULTURISTS, GRAZIERS, AND OTHERS.

THE SPLENDID ESTATE OF "TORYBURN," ALLYN RIVER, COMPRISING FOUR THOUSAND ACRES.

MR. A. DODDS has received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Northumberland Hotel, West Maitland, on THURSDAY, the 28th November, at Twelve o'clock,

The Magnificent Estate of TORYBURN, situated on the Allyn River, adjoining property belonging to Messrs. Park, Dalgleish, and others.

Lot 1

Consists of 2000 acres, adjoining Mr. Dalgleish's, with 1½ miles, or thereabouts, frontage to the Allyn River. A considerable quantity of this is excellent cultivating land, part of which has been under tillage, and yielded abundant crops; the remaining portion is first-rate pasturage.

Lot 2

Comprises 2000 acres, adjoining A. Park's, Esq., with 1½ miles, or thereabouts, frontage to the Allyn River. A great portion of this lot is well adapted for farming purposes; the residue being rich grazing land.

This valuable estate is luxuriantly grassed, abundantly watered, and capable of depasturing 2000 head of cattle, or sheep in proportion. Its fattening qualities are superior to any in the neighbourhood. It is distant from Maitland about twenty miles, and from the head of navigation seven miles. It abounds with limestone, good timber for building or fencing purposes, and the whole of the estate is fine open land.

There are secured, by pre-emption right, 6480 acres, thereby making it an extensive grazing establishment; with an abundance of cultivation land on the estate for the growth of tobacco, wheat, maize, barley, and the vine.

The Government land is well watered.
